

Augustus

Hello, my name is Augustus. I am the first emperor of the Roman Empire and am well liked by the citizens of Rome. Under my rule, the Empire began a 200-year period of peace. I solved many problems by setting up a police force, a fire department, and a committee to feed the city. I supported the arts and built or restored many temples. I was so loved by the people, they put my picture on a coin 200 years after my death. I found Rome built of sun-dried bricks, and I left her covered in marble!

Dress as an emperor and show coins with your picture on them.

*Walk Through The Ancient World © CWE, Inc.
www.californiaweekly.com*