

Isis

(Myth)

Hello, my name is Isis (Eye-sis). I am one of the most beloved goddesses in Egypt. I am the goddess of life and motherhood. When my husband Osiris was killed by his evil brother, I traveled far and wide to search for his body. After he was found, he became ruler of the underworld. Myths say that the Nile River flooded every year with the tears I shed for my husband.

Dress as a goddess and carry your young child, Horus, in your arms. Note: Isis is also depicted with the horns of a cow on her head with the solar disk between them.

*Walk Through The Ancient World © CWE, Inc.
www.californiaweekly.com*