

Osiris

(Myth)

Hello, my name is Osiris (O-sigh-ris). I am the god of the setting sun and ruler of the land of the dead. I was considered a merciful judge in the afterlife. One of my titles is Lord of Love. According to legend, I, as king of Egypt, taught the people law, agriculture, religion, and other blessings of the civilization.

Dress in mummy wrappings, with a green face and carry a crook and flail. Have your team bow down to you in honor.
