

Romulus

(legend)

Hello, my name is Romulus. According to legend, I am the first king of Rome. It is told that my brother Remus and I were orphaned and raised by wolves and then a shepherd. When we were grown, we decided to build a city. We fought over where to build it and I killed him. I built the city where I had wanted to and named it after myself, Rome!

Dress as a king with fur and a crown. Carry a toy sword. Choose a teammate to play Remus. Reenact the scene while you are doing your speech.

*Walk Through The Ancient World © CWE, Inc.
www.californiaweekly.com*